RE: no name, a ball python owned by Bill Sanders

The python was examined by me on 8/28/13 at 3 pm. The snake was found to be:

- 1) Somewhat thin
- 2) Morphologically a male with a probe depth of 13 scale rows bilaterally
- 3) Had a marked parasite load with 3-4+ flagellated protozoa that appeared to be trichomonads
- 4) What appeared to be an impacted and abscessed L musk gland.

In my opinion this appears to be a male snake that is not in excellent health and is infected with a parasite that is contagious to other snakes. I cannot be assured that this animal will be able to breed in the future D/T the abscess in the area of the cloaca. If adhesions form from this then mating ability will be severely compromised.

Sincerely

Bernard Mangone.
